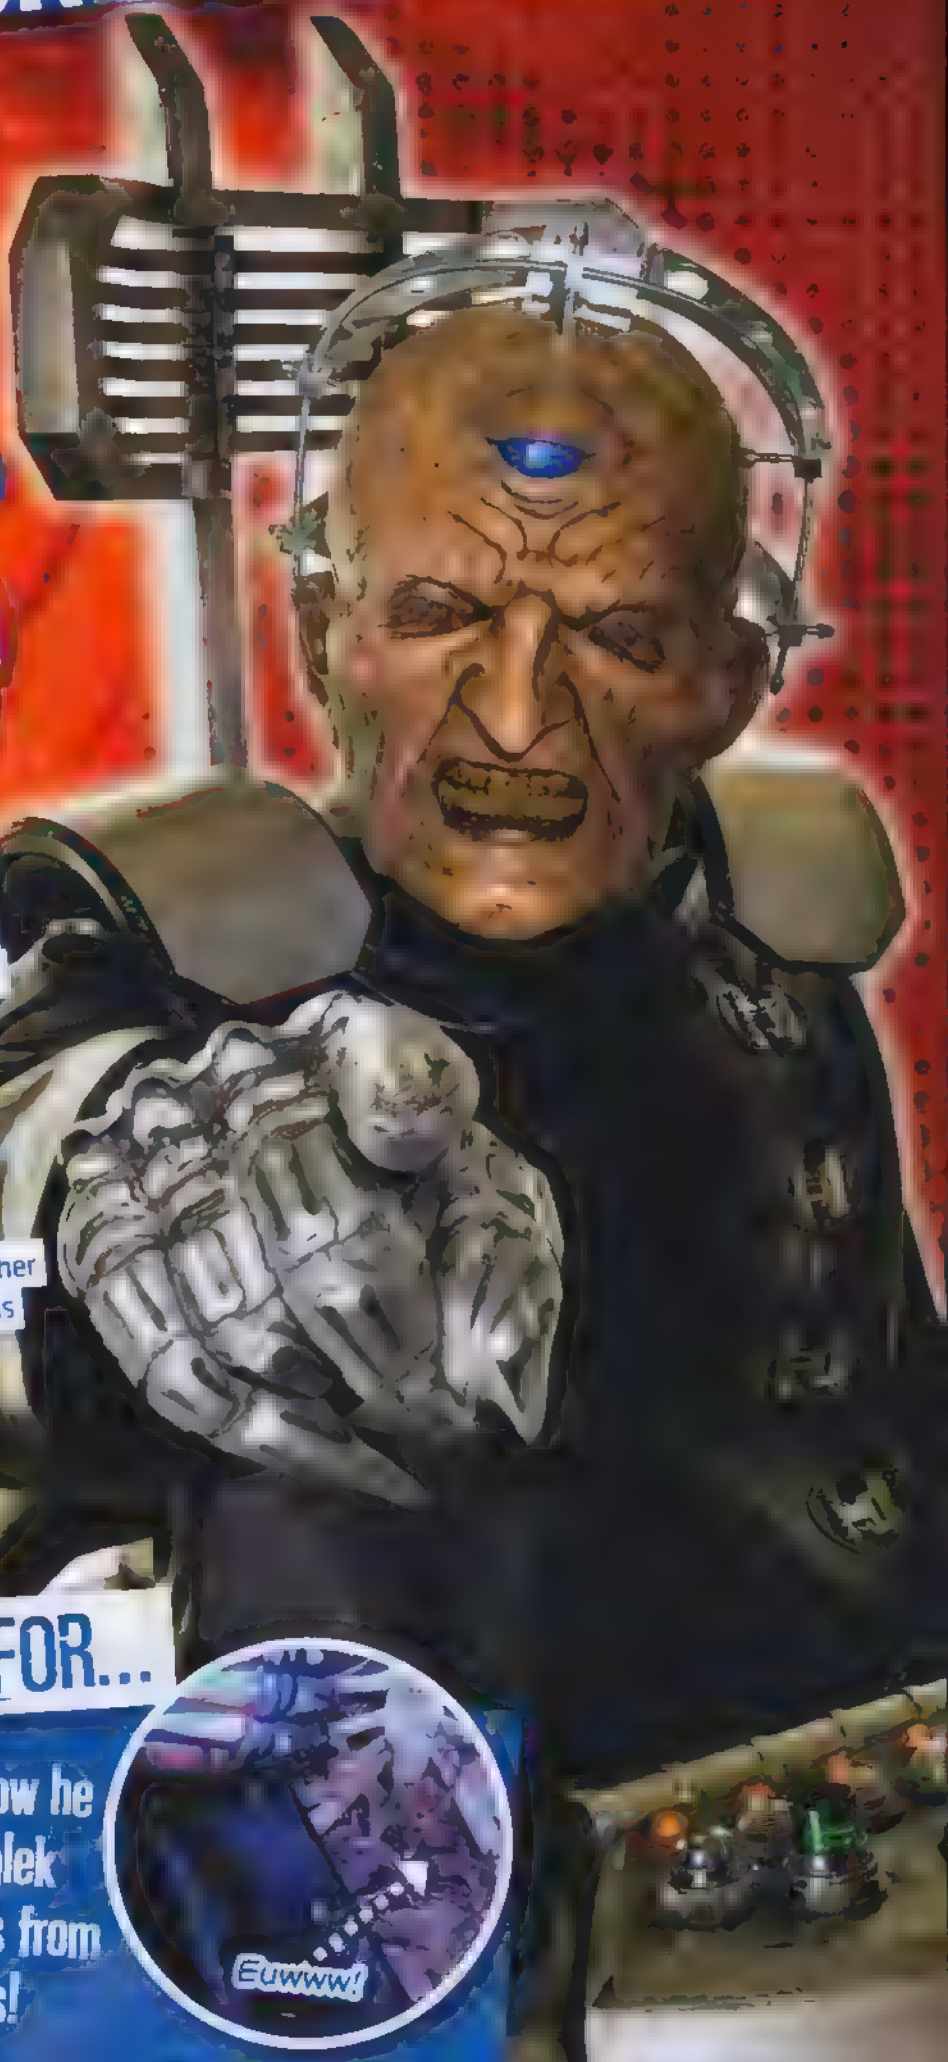
THE DOCTOR'S DATA

Davros



Who is he?

Davros is the scientist who created the Daleks. He's a Kaled from the planet Skaro.

How were the Daleks invented?

During a great war with the Thals, Davros realised that the Kaleds' weapons turned people into mutants. So he sped up this process and, at the same time, built travel machines for the mutants to get around in. These were the original Dalek shells!

What does he want?

Davros believes that his Daleks are the supreme beings in the universe. He won't be happy until they are the only life form in creation.

Where is he now?

The Doctor tried to rescue Davros when the Dalek Crucible was exploding, but Davros refused to go with him. We don't know whether he managed to escape, or if he was blown up with his creations.

WATCH OUT FOR...

Davros revealing how he created his new Dalek army by using cells from his own body. Gross!

A MERRY LITTLE CHRISTMAS
The Doctor has dropped Heather off for Christmas at her Gran's house in the tiny village of Stillmuir.

Oh, he's just wandered off somewhere. He likes to explore!
Story EDDIE ROBSON

Ooh, is that a little shop?
Suddenly, the whole village disappears!
WHAT?
ZWOMPH!
But in the village, nobody realises they've been snatched.

I've never seen them before. Are they from the council?
Hmm... I don't think so. Where's the Doctor when you need him? I guess I'll have to sort this one myself.

The portal opens, and the strange visitors run for it!
The shaking's stopped... But now it's snowing!
Steven, Alex, come on. Those two are getting away!
No, Selby - wait! Please, you can't leave me to the mercy of these primitives!
I'm sorry, Kernow...
CRRUNCH!
It's like an invisible wall, right where that woman disappeared. What's going on?
Maybe he can answer that.

Meanwhile, the Doctor investigates.
The energy traces definitely indicate that the village was taken across space – to here. But why?
A-WOOP
A-WOOP
A-WOOP
It's the whole village, shrunk down and trapped in a giant globe!
A-WOOP
A-WOOP
A-WOOP
What's that racket? Some kind of alarm?
I tried to save him, but the specimens were bearing down on me. Kernow's still inside!
Calm down! They won't understand what's happening – inside the dome, everything will look normal. I'll talk to them.
The aliens communicate with the village.
Specimens! Step away from him! DO NOT ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE!
What? Who's that? What's going on?
We have to get him out of there. Release the gas!
GAS? No, wait!
But...
The gas should have taken effect by now. What's wrong?
Sorry, I might have had a little tinker and sabotaged your system.

It's the Doctor!
Doctor? Is that you?
Yep! Don't panic. I just need to ask these two why they've stolen a whole village, shrunk it down and shifted it across the galaxy. So?
The village was larger than we expected. We brought it here so that we could study this odd primitive festival – Christmas.
What? You don't know what Christmas is?
One of our people visited Earth and heard of the legend. But we can't make sense of it.
Well you won't understand it by sealing it in a laboratory. Put the village back and I think we can arrange something better.
Back on Earth.
Good work, Heather! The village is back where it belongs. Now – has your Gran got room for a few more?
Of course! But I think I might need your help to explain all this to her!
Luckily, Granny McCrimmon is a bit short-sighted!
Heather, we'd better get your pals inside – they're blue with the cold!
Ha ha! Come on, Gran – let's show this lot a proper Scottish Christmas!
IN TWO WEEKS!
